These terms and conditions shall be specified in advance and reflected on a personnel action form (PAF).

Compensation:

Former Lane Managers: Post-retirement employment of former Lane Community College managers as temporary or interim managers shall be compensated at an hourly rate. The hourly rate shall be based upon the final salary of the respective manager or the prospective interim management assignment (internal equity), with that total gross salary then divided by 2080 hours (total gross/2080 hours = hourly rate). This formula shall establish the hourly rate for temporary and interim managers working post-retirement who were formerly employed as managers for Lane Community College.

Former Lane Faculty: Post-retirement employment of former Lane Community College faculty as temporary or interim managers shall be compensated at an hourly rate. The hourly rate shall be based upon the level 3 or level 4 (depending on internal equity comparisons), at the top of the second quartile on the Management Salary Schedule, with that total gross salary then divided by 2080 hours (total gross/2080 hours = hourly rate). This formula shall establish the hourly rate for temporary and interim managers working post-retirement who were formerly faculty for the college.

It is explicitly understood that temporary and interim managers are not eligible for retroactive COLA compensation adjustments during a given academic year.

Benefits:

Stipends: Former Lane Community College managers and faculty who work in post-retirement temporary or interim management assignments, and who are eligible for a monthly "early retirement" stipend under either the LCCEA Contract (MOA June 30, 2002) or Management Working Conditions Agreement (Article 6.5.3.2), shall continue to receive the early retirement stipend during the months they are employed by the College in post-retirement management assignments. Eligibility for the early retirement stipends is governed by the employment agreements referenced above.

Insurance: Former Lane Community College managers or faculty who work in post-retirement temporary or interim management assignments, and who are eligible for insurance benefits under the LCCEA Contract or Management Working Conditions Agreement, may retain their early retirement insurance coverage while working in post-retirement management assignments. The level of college contributions for early retirement insurance premiums shall remain the same as specified in the LCCEA Contract (MOA June 30, 2002) and the Management Working Conditions Agreement (Article 6.5.3.1.1). For former Lane Community College managers and faculty who are working .5 FTE (20 hours/week) or more, and who were not eligible for the "early retirement" insurance under either the MWCA or LCCEA Agreement, the College shall pay the cost of employee only or two-party (employee +1) coverage and the manager shall make the commensurate out-of-paycheck employee contributions for health insurance during the months of the post-retirement employment. Managers and former faculty who are not eligible for "early retirement insurance" but who are working in post-retirement management assignments less than .5 FTE may self-pay the cost of insurance premiums while working in post-retirement temporary or interim management assignments.
